

Emily Miller Jee
Director of Academic Technology
Peddie School
Hightstown, NJ

As Director of Academic Technology at the Peddie School in Hightstown, NJ, Emily Jee is responsible for all technology as it relates to the classroom and in support of teaching. She oversees all academic software and hardware purchases and utilization, guides faculty in the use of technology software and hardware to complement or augment curricular and administrative goals, conducts research and experiments with various pedagogical tools manages technical projects for the IT department on an ad hoc basis.

Prior to joining Peddie in 2010, Emily held various faculty and administrative positions at: Research International 2006-2007 in Sydney, Australia; the International School of the Sacred Heart in Tokyo, Japan 2003-2006; Stuart Country Day School 1998-2003 and 2008-2010; and Princeton Day School 1997-1998.

Emily has played the violin from an early age, and participated as a student in youth orchestras in Princeton and elsewhere including the Ithaca summer experience. In 1997, she graduated with a B.A. in Studio Art from Bates College in Lewiston, ME. Except for years living abroad, Emily has lived in the Princeton area much of her life. She currently lives in Lawrenceville with her husband and two young children.

Emily has served as a Princeton Pro Musica trustee since 2016 and has chaired the Education-Outreach Committee since 2017.